

Thomas Doty – Storyteller

Winter Telling: Native Stories of Our Homeland

Join storyteller Thomas Doty for a vibrant evening of Native American stories. Doty has been telling stories for 37 years. He received a Distinguished Lifetime Achievement Award from the national American Indian Program, and is the author of Doty Meets Coyote, a book and audiobook from Blackstone Publishing. Doty has been called “A Cultural Treasure” and “A Master of his Art.”

Experience the joys and wisdoms of native stories from Thomas Doty’s ancestral homeland of southern Oregon and northern California.

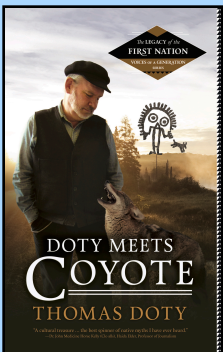

Part of the Series
Tuesday Evening at the Museum

Tuesday, January 23, 2018

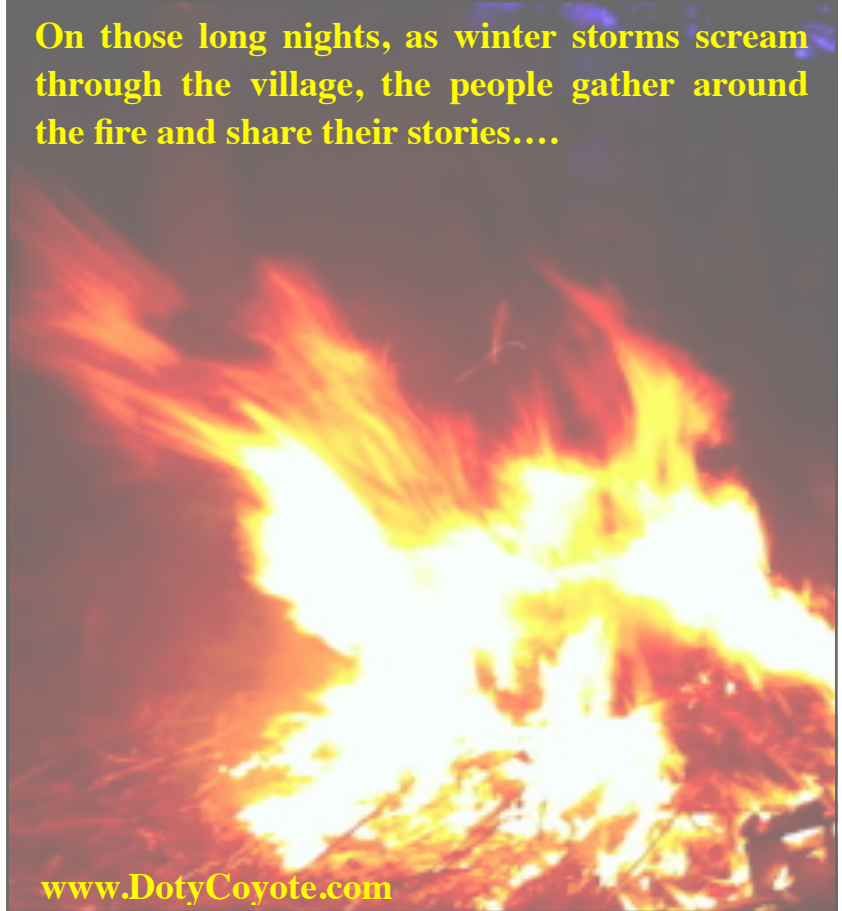

6:30 – 8:00 pm

Talent Historical Society & Museum
105 North Market Street
Talent, Oregon 97540
For Info: 541-482-3447

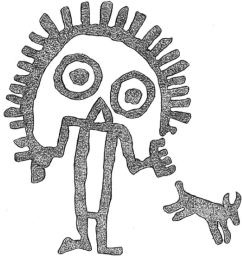

Admission is free! Well behaved children are welcome. Doors open at 6:00 p.m.

On those long nights, as winter storms scream through the village, the people gather around the fire and share their stories....

www.DotyCoyote.com

Stories the Rock People Tell

A Talk by Storyteller Thomas Doty

1:00 p.m. • Saturday, June 29, 2019 • Gold Hill Library
202 Dardanelles Street • Gold Hill, OR 97525 • 541-855-1994

Explore ancient rock carvings and paintings with Native Storyteller Thomas Doty. “In our Indian mythology,” says Doty, “the Rock People are the oldest people, and the first storytellers.” Doty will talk about the meanings of the symbols and how they are combined to create messages and stories. Since the mid 1980s, Thomas Doty has co-directed the Reading the Rocks Project. He has visited hundreds of sites in the West ... documenting, interpreting and protecting these cultural treasures.

Admission is Free.
Well-Behaved Children are Welcome.
Sponsored by Gold Hill Friends of the Library.

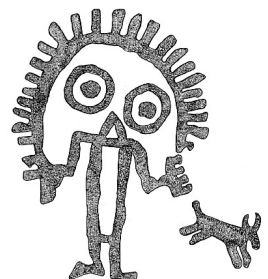

Coyote, Columbus & Beeson

Storyteller Thomas Doty

1:00 p.m. • Saturday, October 12, 2019 • Gold Hill Library

202 Dardanelles Street • Gold Hill, OR 97525 • 541-855-1994

This performance begins in the Old Time when stories are new, and then explodes into Indian-White contact time. Thomas Doty's presentation contrasts Native American and European world views, sheds light on the removal of native people from their homelands, and tells the story of John Beeson, Oregon's first human rights activist during the Rogue River War of the 1850s. A powerful blend of cultural loss and hope for what's coming.

Admission is Free. Well-Behaved Children are Welcome.

Sponsored by Gold Hill Friends of the Library.

Native Stories & Songs

Tish McFadden • Thomas Doty

December 2, 2019 • 3:30 – 5:00 pm
Mountain Meadows • Mt. Ashland Room

Join author and musician Tish McFadden, and storyteller Thomas Doty, for a vibrant afternoon of stories and songs. There will be Old Time Rogue River stories, and selections from Upriver to Morning, Tish's new native story inspired by the teachings of Takelma elder Agnes Baker Pilgrim.

From protecting prehistoric sites of the Old Ones to sharing universal wisdom through words and music, from ancient stories passed on through the oral tradition, to new stories shared through books and songs, this performance links the past with the present.

www.UpriverToMorning.com • Info: 541-625-8381