Dear Mr. Doty

Thank you so much for coming to Willow Wind and telling your wonderful stories. I really liked it when you told the story about the stars and the coyote. Another thing I thought was really interesting and that I liked was when you connected the two stories of the sun and the stars. I have never heard anything like it and it was good. I thought it was funny when you when you described the stars and how they danced across the sky. I enjoyed it a lot and thought it was good how you used arm motions to describe your characters and how much voice you put in your characters. You brought them to life. All your stories were enjoyable, and you used great descriptions. I hope you can come back again soon.

Sincerely,
Zya

Dear Mr. Doty,

Thank you for coming to Wind to tell your stories. I don't know if you remember me. I was at Willow Witt when you went there over the summer. I think the stories were even more impressive this time, if that's possible. My favorite story was the one where all the animals are trying to be the sun. I really liked how descriptive all the stories were. I liked the saying "The story teller creates the atmosphere where wisdom reveals itself." You are a really good story teller. I am glad you tell stories and came to Willow Wind to tell them.

sincerely,

Dear Mr. Doty,

I loved the stories you told us at Willow Wind! My very favorite story was the one about the girl who told the story about the crane! She was very brave to stand up for herself and tell that story to her class. I also really liked how snake created the sun just by dreaming! Your stories were very detailed and I could really feel the emotions of the stories. I could picture them exactly! Thank you very much for taking time to come and tell us stories! I hope you can come again! sincerely

Dear Mr. Doty,

Thank you for coming to Willow Wind to tell us stories. I think they were really good stories that I don't think would have been quite as good if somebody else told them. You were terrific at doing the sound effects and the characters voice. You were also fantastic at acting out what the characters were doing. I really hope you can come back to Willow Wind again.

Dear Mr. Doty,

Thank you for coming to Willow Wind to tell stories to us. I really liked how you made sounds for different characters in the stories. It was funny how you moved your eyebrows in the story about cyote and the star. When you told the story about the crane and the girl with skinny legs, I thought about how I would feel if teased me about my body. Thank you for coming to Willow Wind!

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Doty,

Thank you so much for coming to Willow Wind! I enjoyed all of your wonderfully detailed stories. Your stories really made me think of Native American culture and made me want to hear more. Your story about the girl with skinny legs made me reflect on my own experiences and think of my friend and how skinny she is! I think you had great expression and you used interesting voices. You reminded me of my dad and how he used to use funny voices when we read Harry Potter together. I think you are a great storyteller and tell beautiful stories.

Sincerely,
Jessica Dohrmann

Dear Mr. Doty,

Thank you for coming to Willow Wind to tell us your stories. It was like the animals came to life. Your hand motions kept me focused on the story. You must have a very good memory to remember your stories for 39 years. It was really entertaining to. My favorite story was the first story you told, that explained how we got light. Thank you for coming to Willow Wind.

Dear Mr. Doty,

I believe the stories you told at Willow Wind were pretty great. I thought the story about how you became a storyteller was interesting.

I like the fact that native people traded stories, and adopted them with their own animals. The one with the girl and the crane was very good.

You illustrate the characters with your voices and movements. Again, thank you so much for telling your stories.

Yours sincerely,

You had very good stories to tell, and I liked the one about the girl and the crane best. You had very good stories and movements to go with them. I am glad you decided to come to our school. Dear Mr. Doty,

Thank you for coming to Willow Wind. I really enjoyed how all of the stories you told had lessons. The boy walked into the sun and the father walked into the Moon" was interesting because the way time went by was odd to me. It was so clever how you blended from facts about your life right into the stories. Thank you for coming to Willow Wind and I hope you can come back again!

Sincerely,
Sean
